BOR.

In pursuance of a plan which we hope to carry through, to illustrate the principal points of North Carolina without reference to special interests we present in this issue a map of the harbor of Wilmington. This, by far the most important port on the coast of the State, and the largest city in its borders, offers so much food for the essayist, in its historical, social and commercial relations, that he is more than embarrassed in the choice of materials. The consideration of The old and renowned concoctor of cocktails, Mr. Aycock, of J.M. Forrest's saloon, sent to the News office yesterday six brandy juleps all done up in ice "and such." As we are on a "dry keep," we can only say that they certainly looked tempting and they was constructed by the concentration of the past of Capa Feer vives is controlled by the concentration of the past of Capa Feer vives is controlled by into paths so pleasant that he by into paths so pleasant that he depot of a large foreign commerce. West, and make her port the great depot of a large foreign commerce. Whosever looks at a map of North America, will see at a glance the communisation to settle the single point of its commercial position, regretting at the same time that the late hour at which the map was of Capa Feer vives is controlled by the tune of $5 and costs.

En Passant.—Gov. W. A. Grade are, for nature has marked out Willington as the great city of the coast, and neither the accomplishments of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past, nor the success of the present of the past of the pa completed had made us somewhat careless in the preparation of material which without the map would have Wilmington owes the origin of its importance to its happy position on the Cape Fear river, at the foot of the navigable water of the interior, and at the head of navigation from the sea. Settlements long fluctuated for a permanent location between old Brunswick and other points on the river and the present location of the city of Wilmington, which appears to have been made about 1700, and which gradually absorbed all the others on the river. Historically, Wilmington was conspicuous in days antecedent to the revolution, and the high culture and chivalrous spirit of the natives of the banks of the Cape Fear gave them a rank below no other people in the colonies. Commercially, the town was always an active mart, conspicuous principally for its trade in naval stores and as the entrepot of a large West India trade, through which the interior of the State was wholly supplied. Yet Wilmington, important as it was in the eyes of our own people, and illustrious as she always was by the culture, refinement and talent of her citizens did not expand. Our forefathers were not enterprising, and contented themselves with those gifts which nature almost forced upon them, passing away life in easy enjoyment, and making time pleasant in the play of their own happy Enough has been done on the bar and in the river to make it certain that Wilmington can accommodate the commerce it invites.

And what is that commerce, even now when her interior connections only begin to show their capacity? THE GENERAL SENTIMENT.-We have in our possession a large number of letters from the most prominent gentlemen and ladies of North Carolina endorsing our course in attacking the civil-rightism that was attempted to be enforced on our society by the Northern lecturess, Miss Armstrong. We do not propose to publish the many letters as the writers, though willing, did not intend them for publication. The following, from the Danville, Va. Times, however expresses the general sentiment with the exception of the Radical press. We naturally expected nothing more from that source than a defence of the great work of their party the Civil Rights bill. Says the Times: Our friend E. C. Woodson's notice of Miss Armstrong's eating at the same table with a negro servant, seems to have created quite a stir. The lady rises to an explanation, but fails to explain. > The Mining Troubles-Further and Persistent Outrages.

Pottsville, Pa., May 6.—We have reports again this morning from the apper coal region indicating constantly increasing outrages committed of late and of lawlessness becoming more violent. At several places where the miners have shown a disition to resume work, threats and coffin notices have been posted about the mines as a warning. A large two and a half inch wire rope, used for drawing coal by the Philadelphia and Reading Company over the Gordon planes, was cut in five places with au ax compelling a suspension of coal shipments from Shamokin and points above for a day. A large number of special policemen from Reading pass over the planes daily, and it is thought the intention was to kill them by the rope giving way, though it was discovered in time to prevent any such damage. A watchman on duty at Locust Dale Colliery was attacked by miners, sustained injuries and was robbed of his watch. An attempt was made to wreck the Pottsville passenger train on a heavy curve at big Mine Run last evening by placing an iron railroad of chain or large heavy log across the track. Although the train was running fast the engineer made the discovery in time to slacken its speed suffi-ciently to save it, the cowcatcher throwing the impediment off the track. At a late hour last night the railroad telegraph office at Locust Summit was burned to the ground. THE DEAD-LOCK MORE PERSISTENT.

WILKESBARRE, May 6.—To day was the time set dy President Parrish for the miners at Sugar Notch to resume work or he would have the pumps stopped and allow the mines to fill up. The miners still refused to go in, and the pumps and other machinery will be removed at once. There is no prospect of the strike ending soon. The miners are as determined as ever, and are every day recieving aid from other sections. During this week they recieved 108 ceries from the miners of small commise of 250 barrels more to-mor-

THE war in Cuba seems about ap-

We extract the following notice of the speech of General Ransom from an article by Mr. T. B. Kingsbury, which appears in the last between Greensboro and Charlotte, number of the North Carolina Journal of Education. Upon the first reading of the speech, there was a general outburst of admiration and enthusiam. Sympathy with the occasion may have carried applause beyond the limits of reason. But after the furor has passed away, a cool, calm critic analyzes the speech, announcement above quoted from and his deliberate judgment, more than confirms first impressions -The speech is not only approved under the scrutiny of criticism, but it carries away the critic in the same boundless enthusiasm that first warmed up the hearers and readers.

But to the extract: Quite recently the North Carolina and Virginia papers have vied with each other in praise of a speech ma in the U.S. Senate on February 17th, last, by Geo. Matt W. Ransom, and papers North and South have agreed hat it was an effort of remarkable eloquence. Senator Ransom is an alumnus of the University of North Carolina. We must here parenthetically record our own opinion of this speech after having studied it with exceedroad system, they must not be al-lowed to stand upon a foundation to be one of the noticeable speeches f the century. In literary finish, in scholarly elegance, in rare beauty of diction, in noble thought, in persuasive and manly eloquence, it will compare well with any speech we have read that has been delivered in our time. Appealing to the reason and justice as well as to the imagination, the affections and the emotions of the Northern people, it should be potential in allaying the bitter waters of strife, in exciting a higher pat-riotism, and arousing a profounder and sincerer sympathy for the opres-sed South—"the Niobe of nations." It has that matchless magic of sym pahty-that vivida vis animi-that glorious burst of winged words, which always interests where it fails to win, and excites the kindlier and etter feelings of the heart when it fails to "master the high eminence" of men's passions and prejudices. The whole speech is reflexive of refined taste, elegant scholarship and affluent thought. As a native North Carolinian writing of another North Carolinian, "native and to the man-ner born," it is gratifying to us to be ble to pay this imperfect tribute to the most ornate and rhetorical pubnals of our State oratory.

THE GRANGERS. Our attention has been called to the accompanying extract from the State Agricultural Journal, which we republish as an illustration of the hatred and opposition to the Grangers in some quarters. Its insolent tone will give the writer no adherents and will only tend to confirm such Grangers as have attempted to cut loose from middle men in their purpose. This purpose can never be fully accomplished without overturning the whole fabric of mercantile life; and when overturned, the work of reconstruction must be made on the same foundation. But the determination to effect reforms and protect these interests will not be altogether fruitless. They may not secure complete independence, but they will inspire respect, and a deference to the rights of the farmer which in the past has been en-

CALIFORNIA CROPS INJURED .-The San Francisco Altza of April 27 speaks rather discouragingly of the ospect of the wheat crop in Ca'fornia, notwithstanding the general rain which visited the State some months ago. It says: Perhaps had we had no northerly winds after that rain, we might have produced an average crop, Even that, however, is doubtful. For it is pretty well understood that late rai is are a necessity to the filling out and perfection of our cereal. But since that general, although not heavy rain, we have had probably more northerly winds than ever before during the last quarter of a century. And in certain parts of the State they have had hot, shriveling north winds for days and days, while in this city we have had winds from entirely different points and of entirely different character. The late rains we have not had, surely. As a consequence of that, and of the great prevailing north winds, the crops are injured, in some parts ruined. A letter received from the vicinity of Fairfied, Solano county, yesterday, says that a hot north wind prevails there, and that it will require only a very few days more to inpletely wither the wheat in that vicinity. NARROW ESCAPE OF AN ACTRESS

-The Katy Putnam Comedy Com-edy Troupe performed in Patterson on Monday and Tuesday nights.— Miss Putnam being in such ill health that she could not sleep, sought the aid of chloroform during Wednesday night, to bring the much desired rest. Saturating a handkerchief with the annesthetic drug she placed it over her mouth and was soon in a state of unconsciousness. Her loud, peculiar breathing attracted the at-tention of Mrs. Lester, a member of the company. The lady entered the room, and seeing the beautiful young actress lying there pale and apparently dead, lost her presence of mind and startled the whole house with her loud cries. This gave rise to the report that Miss Putnam had committed suicide. She appeared to be better yesterday morning, when she left Patterson to fill an engagement Newark .- New York Herald,

A gentleman residing in this city recently lost his mother-in-law. The leath of this estimable lady left him in a quandary. If he closed his store he might lose some custom, unless some explanation could be furnished. A happy thought struck him. He purchased a yard of crape, hung it on his store door, then pasted on his show window the following: Store will be open to-morrow. you want any boots and shoes, it will pay you to wait."—Exchange.

Baron Adolphe de Rothschild has recently become the proud possessor of a strange work of art—a pistol worth £2,000. The works of the little weapon are inclosed within the hilt of a Turkish cimeter, and the ba:rel runs along the back of the blade! The hilt is of brass, inlaid with su-ver, after the style of the Renaissance, and evidently due to a Venetian workman.

In his recent yisit to General John C. Breckinridge, Vice President Wisson was accompanied by Hon. Jas. B. Beck, General Freston, Col. J. Stod-dard Johnson and Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge. The meeting of the two men is said to have been very affecting and they were left by them selves for half an hour.

Crop reports from various parts of Wisconsin indicate that the recent cold weather did very little damage to grain. The general tenor of the dispatches show that the less hardy fruits have recieved a severe check, if they have not been entirely cut off, by the unseasonable frost.

A gentleman from Corinth, Misissippi, informs us that the colored Christians of that place are having a very interesting religious meeting. So successfully have they conducted it mightly for the last seven years that they are now seriously thinking of making a protracted meeting of it.

S. F. Butterworth, a prominent citizen of San Francisco and former ly of New York, is dead. He will be remembered by many as the friend and adviser of Sickles of his shooting of Philip Barten Key in Washington in February, 1859.

WHAT THE NERVOUS REQUIRE.—What the nervous require more than anything clse is invigoration. Sedaffves alone will not cure nervousness. The reason that the nerves are so susceptible is that they are weak. Compensate for this deficiency of strength, and over-acute nervous sensibility disappears. The most lational, wholesome, and agreeable tonic is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Medical men recommend its use for the cure of general debillity, knowing it to loss as sir night-giving mend its use for the cure of general debility, knowing it to loss as stringth-giving properties of the highest order, and at the same time to be a means of reforming those bodily irregularities which induce nervousness and loss of vizor. It is the best known remedy for dyspepsia, whether nervous or billious, and is powerfully censervative of a regular habit of body. As it is notorious that those who are afflicted with weak nerves, bi liousness or construction are peculiarly libels to the influence of malaria, it is invaluable to such persons on acc unt of its preventive efficacy. From the New York Herald. Governor Graham on the Mecklenburg Declaration.

We present at great lenth this orning the argument of Governor aham, of North Carolina, in alf of the authenticity of the Meck-nburg Declaration of Independce. Governor Graham is among the st eminent of our citizens. He was t only the Cheif Magistrate of his tive State but a Senator in Cons, the Secretary of the Navy un or President Fillmore, and the whig andidate for Vice President on the ket with General Scott. Alike by ment services and distinguished raham, of Revolutionary fame, he alified to speak of the attitude of th Carolina in the struggle for ependence, and his words on beof the Mecklenburg Declaration have great weight, even if they their trust in that document. The ginal of that paper was in the Seer tury of the assumed Coantion of May 20, 1775, and was deoyed by fire when his house was rned in 1800. Mr. Alexander had viously given copies to different ons, among them General Davie, o the possession of Governor aham, and was published among State papers of North Caroline is may be accepted as the authen rumental in its preservation. In the present state of the contro rsy it is impossible to accept anying as proved. All that we can do now is to consider some of the lated issues which spring out of the gument, leaving the main question be determined after the whole case heard. One of these side issues is identally raised by Gov. Graham his efforts to sustain the genuiness of the document. This point is at either the McKnitt Alexander aper is a forgery or that Jefferson ew from it the ideas and even some f the phrases of the immortal Declaion of 1776. If it was not a forgery fferson must have seen it, for it is istinctly averred as part of the case hat it was sent to the Continental ngress at Philadelphia, of which fferson was a member. If this lecklenburg claim can be sustained fferson almost inevitably must have been guilty of prevarication as well as plagiarism. As Governor Graham shows us, the memory of the ecklenburg Declaration had been llowed to fall into oblivion. It was not revived until 1819, when Joseph McKnitt Alexander renewed the claim by the publication of a paper in the Raleigh Register. It was copied into the Essex Register in Massahusetts, and so came under the notice of John Adams, by whom it was sent to Jefferson. Both of these minent men denied any knowledge of its existence, and from the lively interest which Adams evinced in discovery it is evident it was a verloooked or forgotten. Jefferson had even stronger reasons for re-membering it. The language of the resolution under which he acted was either copied from it or it was copied from the Declaration of Indepence, and Jefferson not only incorporated all this remarkable phraseology into his immortal State paper, but to it that even more remarkable phrase, to be found also in the Mecklenburg Decclaration, which is is concluding sentence. The charge of plagiarism against Jefferson can only be based on the use of this last phrase, and he could readily have defended himself against it when Adams seemed to imply it, because Adams seemed to imply it, because the use which Congress had already made of the Mecklenburg Declaration would have fully justified him in adopting and using the other phrase. It is plain that neither Adams or Jefferson were ever aware of this Mecklenburg document, and t is inconceivable that they should not have been aware of it in view of the liberal use which Congress has The Little Jewell is the title of made of its peculiar forms of expres-sion and the efforts which Goyernor Graham would have us imply were made to suppress the document by the very body which afterwards adopted it, both in spirit and phras-It will be observed that Governor

Graham takes up all the points and established or answers them to his own satisfaction and that of the people of his State, if not to the accepance of historial critics generally. The claim is a simple but glorious one—namely, that to Mecklenburg is due the first open declaration of the necessity of separation from Great Britain. This claim is the proudest boast of the people of North Carolina and they have frequently commemorated it by appropriate celebration and sought to preserve the memory of the evert by legislative provision. The historians and scholars of the State have endeavored to fortify the claim by all the aids of learning and literature, and they have succeeded not only in rescuing it from oblivion, but in strengthening it so that it is not easier to overthrow it than to overcome a veritable 'hornet's nest.' Gov. Graham reproduces all the arguments, telling its very interesting history over again, and showing not only how the Mecklenburg Declaration was preserved, but why there is no Congressional record of its exstence, and why it, authenticity was discussed previous to 1819. He makes out a very fair case, but there is still ground for controversy. Many things may be urged against the gen-niness of the document, and there are reasons for questioning whether there ever was a Mecklenburg Declaration at all. Either way these are difficulties; but the document was either a swred forgery or else the first American Doclaration of Independence was allowed to fall into almost complete oblivion for nearly fifty years. In any case the discussion is in interesting one, and the decission, whether it is in favor of or advers to the Mecklenburg claim, can only be oductive of good in turning oughts of the reople toward the consideration of the principles of lib-

MARINE DISASTER.

Shocking Loss of Life-Particulars of the Unfortunates. London, May 8.-Intelligence of a shocking Marine disaster has just been received in this city. The Eagle line Steamship Schiller, Captain Thomas, which sailed from New York, April 28th, for Hamburg, by way of Plymouth and Cherbourg, has been wrecked off the Schilly Is-land. It is believed that 200 persons LATER. -A.dditional particulars thus far received of the wreck of the Steamship Schiller, show that the disaster is fully as terrible as at first reported. The accident occurred at 10 o'clock last night at which hour the steamship struck on dangerous retarriore ledges near Bishop Rock.

A fog prevailed at the time. A boat belong to St Agnes, Southernmost of Scilly Islands, has landed some of the surgices. the survivors of the wreck at St Mary's Island another of the Scillys. These survivors were picked up while swimming with tide; they had several narrow escapes from drowning and were a number of times washed off a rock. They declare that the number of lives lost by the disaster is 200. A fearful sea is raging and it is scarcely possible for boats engaged in searching for survivers to live. The Scilly life boat has put off for the PLYMOUTH, ENGLAND, May 8. The agent at this place of the Eagle line has proceeded to Scilly. A gun was heard at one o'clock this morning near the scene of disaster.

LONDON, May 8.—Up to this hour five passengers and two of the crew of the steamship Sciller are known to have been saved

It is known that the Captain and second mate were drowned. The steamship is now lying broadside on the rocks. She is under water and her mainmast is gone. A steamer and several boats are cruising about the scene of the wreck, searching for survivors. The disaster was owing to the dense fog which prevented either light of the Schiller from

LATER STILL .- The wreck of the steamship Schiller has caused great excitement in this city. Extras con-taining all particulars at hand of the disaster have been issued by several of the newspapers.

The latest dispatches hold out the hope that some persons may have escaped and reached others of the Scilly Islands.

More of the Illfated Steamer Schiller. NEW YORK, May 8th .- The agents of the Eagle line say that Capt. Thomas of the Schiller was the oldest commander in the line. He was for many years in the employ of the Peninsular and Oriental Company and occupied a high place among the British sallors. He was with great difficulty induced to leave the British service to enter that of the Eagle Line. The Schiller was one of the newest and best boats in the transcontinental service, was large and strong and constructed on the last pattern. She was built on the Clyde by Robert Napier and Sons. Her sister ship is the Sessing. These two vessels left this port for Havre densely crowded, being first to take advantage of the opening of the spring trade to Europe. They were the last two steamers that sailed under the East two steamers the East two steam der the flag of the Eagle line which had been consolidated with the Ham-burg American line. The atomach is affected with LOSSOF APPETITE and sickness, bowels in general costive, cometimes alternating with isx. The HEAD is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable LOSS OF MEMORY, accompanied with painful sensation of a synt LEFT UNDONE something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, DEBIL. nave been done. Often com-pialning of weakness, DEBIL-ITY, and low spirits. Some-times MAR: of the above symtoms attend the disease, and at other times very FEW of them; but the LIVER is generally the organ most in-volved.

Nearly all diseases originate from Indigestion and Torpidity of the Liver, and relief is aways anxiously sought after. If the Liver is Regulated in its action, health is almost invariably secured. Want of action in the Liver causes Headache, Constipation, Januelice, Pain in the Rhouders, Cough, Chilis, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the month, Bihous attacks, Palpitation of the Heare, depression of spirits, or the blues, and a hundred other symptoms, for which SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered. It sets mildly, effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, can do no injury in any quantities that it may be taken. It is narmless in every way; it has been used for forty years, and hundreds of the good and great from all parts of the country will vouch for its being the purest and best.

A N

AN IMPORTED NATURAL GUANO.

A GENUINE ANIMAL DEPOSIT.

A MONOPOLY OF THIS VALUABLE D OSIT HAS BEEN CREATED IN FAVOR of this Company by the Crown Officers. The name "GUANAHANI," is a Registered TRADE MARK at the United States Patent Office. and all persons are warned from making use of the same in connectio with fertilizers of any kind.

THIS COMPANY GUARANTEES THAT Every Cargo will be ANALYZED Before it is Offered For Sale.

Examine the Analyses and Letters of Prof. P. 'B. WILSON, Ealtimore; Prof. H. C. WHITE, Professor of Chemistry, University of Georgia; Prof. F. A. GENTH, Philadelphia, Professor of Applied Chemistry, University of Pennsylvania.

IMPORTED ONLY BY THE

GUANAHANI GUANO COMPANY,

PETERSBURG. VA.

In offering this FERTILIZER to the Agricultural Community a Second Season we do so with the utmost confidence, feeling satisfied that the high opinion, we formed, and expressed last season based on its Chemical Constituents, have been most satisfactorily borne out by the test, by which all Fertilizers must be judged, that of the Plantation.

Last season, owing to the latencess at which we commenced importing, we were forced to put our Guanc on the market at once, but now having continued our importations during the summer and fail, and having large and well ventilated Warehouses in the city of Fetersburg and at City Point, we are enabled to put our Guanc on the market, in a condition as to dryness and freedom from lumps, equal to any Manufactured Fertilizer.

in a condition as to dryness and freedom from lumps, equal to any Manufactured Fertilizer.

We solicit a careful perusal of our Circular containing the certificates sent us, and which can be had on application at this OFFICE, or from any of our AGENTS. Having nothing to conceal, we made no innovation on established usage, by publishing those letters received unfavorable to our Guano, but careful inquiry in many cases proves that the c-use of its failure was not owing to any fault in the Guano, but to those far leyond our control. We have frequently heard the same complaints of its kindred Fertilizer, Peruvion Guano, but the concurrent testimony of well known farmers and Planters from Maryland to the extreme West-rn countles of North Carolina, justify us in claiming place for our Fertilizer Superior to many, and sac Not to NONE.

We confidently expect the continued patronage of the Agricultural Community and no exertion will be spared on our part to make
